

Attendance on Richmond Day Breaks All Records of State Fair

CONSERVATIVE ESTIMATE PUTS CROWD AT 45,000

Virginia Railway and Power Company Hauled Away 32,704 People From Fair Grounds.

JITNEYS DO BIG BUSINESS

Fair Officials Claim 75,000, but Give No Actual Figures From Turnstiles—Load of Money Is Hauled to Downtown Bank.

The attendance at the Virginia State Fair on Richmond Day in the past three years has been exceeded only once in the history of the fair. It was estimated conservatively last night that between 45,000 and 50,000 people passed into the grounds during the day. The attendance yesterday has been exceeded only once in 1912, in which year the crowd was estimated at between 60,000 and 65,000.

Fair officials last night said that the crowd yesterday was as large, if not larger, than that of 1912. While they had not been able to check up the gate receipts, A. Warwick, general manager, said that he estimated the attendance at 75,000.

At midnight the registers of the Virginia Railway and Power Company in the grounds had passed out 32,704 people, as compared with 32,500 last year, and 23,742 in 1913. In 1912, which was the big year in the history of the fair, the registers checked 41,725 while the total of the passengers that were transported from the grounds by the traction company is not as large as last year, this decrease was partly caused by the jitney business, motor buses that were organized from the downtown section and other means of conveyance, and a fairly large number of people who live near the grounds walked home.

CONSERVATIVE ESTIMATE PUTS CROWD AT 45,000

The crowd at the grounds yesterday was estimated at 45,000 people by Herman Pollard, superintendent of transportation of the Virginia Railway and Power Company. He said that this was a fair estimate and that it could be an extremely liberal estimate.

The grand stand attendance yesterday broke all records of the fairs of previous years. In the afternoon all but standing room was taken, and half an hour before the time for the races, and this was taken by the devotees of the racing game. The stand has been enlarged this year, and there was estimated to be at least 5,000 persons in the crowd. Long before the time for the fireworks last night every seat in the stand had been sold, and standing room was taken, and the management had to refuse demands for accommodations, and a long line, which had formed around the box office, had to be turned away in disappointment.

LAIRGE SUM IS BROUGHT TO DOWNTOWN BANK

Shortly after midnight, the patrol wagon of the Police Department was driven up to the American National Bank with a cargo that was a really modern-day treasure chest, and it was estimated to be at least $5,000 in gold. Under the protection of the Police Department, between $30,000 and $35,000 was brought into the city and bank for safekeeping. Yesterday was the first day that the grounds with all those having concessions of all kinds.

The Virginia Railway and Power Company had 149 cars in operation during the day, and there was not an accident and very little disorder. "The crowd," said Mr. Pollard last night, "was orderly, and we had little trouble, but we were forced to make a single arrest and we were not the day remarkably well. There was little or no congestion, except shortly after 10 o'clock, when the crowd tried to leave the grounds, and cars had to be handled, and cars left the terminals every thirty seconds."
